STEEL WORKERS ASK ROOSEVELT TO BE CANDIDATE

Petition Asking Him To Seek Third Term Given Him in West

Aboard President Roosevelt's Train En route to San Francisco, July 13—(AP)—Bearing a petition from a steelworkers' club urging him to seek a third presidential term, President Roosevelt stopped early today at Salt Lake City, where his daughter and son-in-law boarded his special train, then headed westward again to Nevada.

On board when the train left Salt Lake City at 5:45 A. M. (C. S. T.) after a ten-minute check-up were Mrs. Anna Roosevelt Dall, her husband, John D. Boettger, Seattle publisher, who came by plane last night to meet the train.

At Ogden, 35 miles north, Senator Pat McCarran of Nevada, seeking re-nomination, came aboard. Later in the day, Albert Hilliard, opposing McCarran, planned to join the presidential party at Carlin, Nev.

Position In Doubt
McCarran opposed the president's court reorganization plan and other administration measures. Hilliard is the son of Judge

Oklahoma Poll
Oklahoma City, July 13—(AP)—Senator Elmer Thomas, who made the most of pre-election commitments from President Roosevelt, clinched the Democratic nomination for a third term today over two opponents in the Oklahoma primary election.

Late returns in the Democratic contest for the gubernatorial nomination showed W. H. "Alfalfa Bill" Murray, one of the state's elder statesmen, bowing to Leon C. Phillips of Okemah, pledged to cooperate with the New Deal administration.

Unofficial returns from 2,789 of the 3,522 precincts gave Thomas 182,734 votes in the Senate race; Representative Gomer Smith, former National Vice President of the Townsend pension organization 152,334; and E. W. Marland, New Deal Governor, 84,991.

Phillips had 135,376 votes in 2,790 precincts. His nearest rival, W. S. Key, former state WPA administrator, polled 127,077, and Murray trailed with 111,890.

Benjamin C. Hilliard of the Colorado Supreme Court, a candidate for the Democratic senatorial nomination in Colorado.

What step, if any, the president would take in the Nevada situation was very much in doubt.

Roosevelt will make a platform appearance at Reno, Nev. No appearances were scheduled in Utah because of the early morning hours. Stops for railroad purposes were listed at Montello, Carlin, Inlay and Sparks, Nev., and at Truckee, Calif.

The president passed through Utah with the assurance of Governor Henry H. Blood, who boarded the train yesterday, that Senator Elbert Thomas and Representatives Abe Murdock and J. Will Robinson were set to win re-nomination and re-election.

In McCade's State
The Truckee, Calif., stop will be the president's first on this trip in the home territory of Senator William G. MacAdoo, a down-the-line administration supporter. MacAdoo is opposed by Sheridan Downey, a follower of Dr. Francis E. Townsend, old-age pension advocate.

MacAdoo, already the recipient of a friendly letter from Roosevelt starting "Dear Mac," is expected to receive another presidential pat on the back when the president speaks at the San Francisco Exposition grounds tomorrow.

The president spent yesterday enjoying the scenic beauty of the Colorado Rockies, conferring with Colorado Democrats and resting up from his speech-making of previous days.

Ten Indictments Reported to Judge Zick

Ten grand jury indictments were filed today with Circuit Clerk E. S. Rosencrans including seven true bills against Chester Liles on charges of larceny of automobiles and burglary.

Nerve Held Out

Herrin, Ill., July 13—(AP)—With his left arm badly mangled in an automobile crash, Charles Murphy drove almost eight miles to Herrin today. His arm was amputated at the Herrin hospital.

Murphy, who resides at Hurst, said his automobile and a truck collided near Zeigler. William McNeil of Zeigler, a truck driver, was arrested and lodged in the Herrin jail. Officers said he denied his truck figured in the accident.

Attendants said Murphy's condition was good.

BARBARA DROPS CRIMINAL CASE AGAINST COUNT

Divorce or Separation to Be Sought Under Danish Laws

London, July 13—(AP)—The former Barbara Hutton dropped a criminal charge against her titled Danish husband today with indications a separation or divorce proceedings would be the next step in her turbulent married life.

The surprise ending of what one of the lawyers called "a most unhappy case" came as her second husband, Count Court Haugwitz-Reventlow, reappeared in the shabby Bow Street police court dock and prepared to defend himself against the charge he had threatened the American-born Woolworth heiress.

Solicitors, announcing an agreement under which the 42-year-old Count promised to stay away from Countess Barbara's London mansion and not communicate with her, indicated no reconciliation was in prospect.

The Countess' counsel indicated to the judge the mysterious "gentleman in London" whom the count was accused of threatening to shoot did not come into her life until after she had quarreled with her husband.

In Danish Courts
The Countess' attorney, Sir Patrick Hastings, hinted at a shift of the marital dispute to Danish courts in telling the magistrate that any separation proceedings would be subject to Danish law.

The sudden ending of the case disappointed a crowd jamming the tiny court room in the hope of finding out the name of the mysterious "London society gentleman" whom the Count was accused of threatening to "shoot like a dog."

But Countess Barbara's attorney said she already had quarreled with the count before she met this "mysterious person."

Agreement on the withdrawal of the charge indicated the Count and Countess might be closer together on the terms of separation or divorce settlement than they were last week.

Testimony was given then that she offered him $250,000 and he demanded $5,000,000 and custody of their two-year-old son Lance in return for divorce.

The sudden turn of events—sequel to his arraignment July 1 on the charge of threatening the Countess so she feared for her life and his hearing July 5, when her attorneys testified he called her obscene names and demanded $5,000,000 and their son Lance in return for divorce—came at the opening of the Bow street court session.

New Emergency

Alton, Ill., July 13—(AP)—Firemen were called on to meet a new emergency when a young woman stopped her automobile in front of a fire station and motioned that her jaw had become locked.

The fire fighters didn't hesitate. They inserted a pencil between the woman's teeth, applied pressure to the joints of the jawbones—and opened her jaws. She thanked them and drove away.

Eleven Cars Lifted Out of Train Near Mattoon by Tornadic Winds

Mattoon, Ill., July 13—(AP)—A tornadic wind swept 11 cars of an Illinois Central freight train off the tracks last night as though they were toys.

It lifted two sections of the 37-car train from the rails and left the others untouched. Ten cars in the middle of the train were wrenched out of their couplings and hurled along the right of way. The tender and the car immediately behind were left upright beside the rails.

Engineer T. M. Thomas of Mattoon said he and other members of the crew saw the storm approaching seven and a half miles northwest of here and the train was stopped.

ROSS KIDNAPER COUNTS LAST 24 HOURS OF LIFE

John Henry Seadlund to Die in Chair at Minute After Midnight

Chicago, July 13—(AP)—John Henry Seadlund counted off the last 24 hours of his life today. Society is taking his life in the electric chair at a minute after midnight for the kidnapping of Charles S. Ross.

Seadlund is only 27. He's curly haired and wiry. He used to grin pleasantly. Girls might call him good looking. He looks anything except ready to die.

U. S. Marshal W. H. McDonnell set the execution for 12:01 A. M. C. S. T. tomorrow. Witnesses will include Martin Ward, Assistant Federal District Attorney who prosecuted Seadlund; four other citizens, reporters for three news services, three doctors, the Cook county sheriff and jail warden and eight assistants.

Seadlund's spiritual advisor is the Rev. Ernest Kaushold, Catholic chaplain at the jail.

Born in Ironton, Minn., July 27, 1910, Seadlund was a woodsman and mechanic until he went outside the law.

Story of His Crime
He was arrested in Los Angeles in January, confessed and pleaded guilty to kidnapping Ross, 72, retired Chicago greeting card manufacturer, for $50,000 ransom Sept. 25, 1937. He said he shot and killed his kidnapping accomplice, James Atwood Gray, 19, once of Providence, Ky., at the kidnapping cave hideout near Spooner, Wis.

Seadlund said he shot Ross after the latter had been fatally injured while trying to separate him and Gray. Their bodies were found there Jan. 20. Most of the ransom money was recovered from a cache near Emily, Minn.

In March a Federal court jury condemned Seadlund to die for the kidnapping. The Circuit Court of Appeals upheld the sentence. Federal Judge John P. Barnes set the execution date.

Lately Seadlund has been reading adventure stories in magazines and books from the jail library. He has written regular letters to his mother, Mrs. Delia Seadlund. He told the Marshal the other day: "I'm all square and ready."

Manager Tells Lions Of Specialty Corp.

Harold M. Behan, manager of the Specialty Machine Corporation, a new industry in Dixon with in the last year, was speaker at the weekly luncheon meeting of the Dixon Lions club on Tuesday at the Nachusa Hotel. Eighteen members were present, with Dr. S. P. Stackhouse presiding.

Mr. Behan, who was introduced by J. L. Glassburn, program chairman, spoke of the work being done by his corporation in the manufacture of machine parts for dry cleaning establishments, laundries, and commercial sewing machines. "Within the next three or four years, we hope that our concern will be employing 75 or 80 men and possibly more," Mr. Behan stated.

Mr. Glassburn announced he has also obtained a speaker for next week's meeting of the club.

Spain Tightening Control of Capital

Barcelona, July 13—(AP)—The Spanish government tightened its control on capital today by imposing stiff penalties, including death, for export or hoarding of securities, foreign exchange, precious metals and jewels.

A decree fixed the basic punishment at six months to ten years imprisonment in labor camps and ruled that cases of extreme gravity would be considered as high treason and liable to bring the death penalty.

Officially Dead

Herrin, Ill., July 13—(AP)—The once flourishing mining village of Weaver, four miles north of here, was "dead" today—officially.

The Williamson county board of commissioners has abandoned the town as a voting precinct, its last legal claim to existence. The high cost of holding an election for the less than 20 voters was given as the reason—recent elections had cost $1 a vote.

RATE ON WHEAT LOANS TO BE AN- NOUNCED TODAY

Indications It Will Be Near 95 Cents a Bushel Minimum

Washington, July 13—(AP)—Federal farm officials were computing next year's wheat acreage allotments today while awaiting announcement of the government loan rate on the 1938 near-record crop.

Secretary Wallace said he would disclose the loan figure late this afternoon. There were indications it would be near 95 cents a bushel minimum permitted under the law.

Federal loans to farmers desiring to withhold wheat from market became mandatory with Monday's forecast of a yield of 967-412,000 bushels.

The acreage allotment must be proclaimed Friday. It can not be less than 55,000,000 acres, which would be about a 30 per cent reduction from the 79,000,000 acres seeded for this year. The allotment will be divided among states, and then among individual growers.

The allotment is based on an effort to produce enough wheat for domestic and export needs—roughly 750,000,000 bushels—plus a 30 per cent reserve supply.

Indicated Planting
On the basis of figures now available, including compensation for an indicated record surplus of 400,000,000 bushels after the current crop is harvested, next year's planting would be 47,916,000 acres to produce 575,000,000 bushels of wheat.

Wheat loans became mandatory under the farm act on the basis of a federal crop reporting board's forecast of the second largest wheat crop on record.

The loan rate, officials indicated, will be applied to a certain grade of wheat. Other grades would be eligible for rates higher or lower, depending on whether they were better or poorer than the "base" grade.

Only producers who planted within 105 per cent of their 1938

Bureau Countyite Alleged Bigamist

Glenn B. Blair, formerly of Rock Falls, was taken to the Bureau county jail at Princeton yesterday following his arrest on a farm two miles west of Yorkton on a charge of bigamy. The warrant on which Blair is being held charges that he was married March 1, 1930, while a resident of Rock Falls, to Miss Helen L. Rubright, now a patient in an East Moline hospital. A daughter born to Blair and the former Miss Rubright is now five years old. The warrant also charges that Blair was married June 11, 1933, to Miss Dorothy Bruder of Yorkton.

G-MEN UNINTERESTED
Washington, July 13—(AP)—The Federal Bureau of Investigation showed no official interest today in the arrest of Frank Olson, farmhand quoted by state police at Tacoma, Wash., as confessing the kidnap-slaying of Charles Mattson.

"Olson's case is being handled by local authorities," said Director J. Edgar Hoover.

That was his only comment and other officials in the G-Men's bureau referred all inquiries to Hoover.

Government Spends Nearly 25 Million Dollars Every Day

Washington, July 13—(AP)—The government stepped up its spending pace today to the record peacetime average of $24,890,000 a day ordered by President Roosevelt. This is $3,613,000 a day more than last year's average.

The president revised his January budget estimates for the fiscal year which began July 1 in order to account for the emergency relief and public works programs. He calculated the treasury would collect only $5 for every $9 it spent, piling up a deficit of about $4,000,000,000.

For relief alone, he said, $2,135,000,000 would be needed—enough to support 3,000,000 persons on WPA rolls until next spring.

Roosevelt indicated a belief that business would improve enough to taper off the relief load in March. He estimated, however, that $500,000,000 must be voted by congress to carry relief expenditures from March 1 to next July 1. It appropriated funds for only the first eight months of the fiscal year.

LOCAL TEMPERATURES
For the 24 hours ending at 7 A. M. today: maximum, 92; minimum, 65. Precipitation, 3.1 inch; total for July 1, 1.91 inches.

Confessed "Kidnaper" of Mattson Child is Believed Mental Case

Man Held in Tacoma Will Not Face Kid- naping Charge

Tacoma, Wash., July 13—(AP)—Chief William Cole of the Washington highway patrol said today he was convinced a man of several aliases, who "confessed" the Mattson kidnaping yesterday, was "a mental case and had no part in the crime."

Cole said the man, who gave his name as Clarence White, Clarence Throp, Clarence Mead and Frank Olson, would not be charged with the kidnaping and slaying of 10-year-old Charles Mattson, but probably would be given a sanity hearing.

Cole, who announced Olson's confession last night, said the prisoner's description tallied closely with that of the man sought for the abduction but that many portions of his story did not check with known facts of the case. He refused to outline them.

Olson was arrested last Friday near Ritzville in eastern Washington and after 36 hours questioning by Sheriff Milvin Oestreich and others, was brought to Tacoma. He is irrational about a third of the time, Cole said.

Changed His Story
Olson first said four men were involved in the kidnaping. Later he said only three and finally cut the number to two. The second man he named was arrested and released last night when Olson again contradicted his story and said that man was not involved.

Cole described Olson as rather slender with sharp, dark features. He said Olson wore a cap and shuffed as he walked, his head thrust forward and his eyes darting from side to side nervously. He said he stole the boy and dashed down the precipitous cliff behind the Mattson home and reached the beach in pitch darkness. A rowboat was moored there and he rowed with the boy for several hours across Commencement Bay to Dash Point, where he had parked his car, the confession said. He then drove to Everett.

Cole said Olson denied he put the body where it was found 15 days later in newly fallen snow in a thicket near Everett.

"I wrapped the body up and buried it," Cole quoted him as saying. "One other man knew where the body was buried and he must have dug it up and moved it."

Cole said Olson said he strangled the boy, then beat him on the head and stabbed him. The condition of the body at the time it was discovered indicated the stab wounds were inflicted after death.

Sharp Drops in Temperature
Were reported throughout Illinois. Decatur had a record high of 100 yesterday, and today thermometers registered 71 with cloudy skies. At Sterling it was 66 after a reading of 92 yesterday, while in Chicago it was cloudy and cool after a high of 86 yesterday. Wheat and corn crops were damaged by hail at Elmwood.

A rainfall of 63 of an inch broke the 91 degree temperature at Ottawa, sending the mercury down to 63 today and at Kankakee, 46 of an inch rainfall was recorded with a low mark of 66 above as against a 95 yesterday. Peoria reported nearly an inch of rainfall and a temperature of 67 after a new season high of 96.

At the height of the storm in Chicago, coast guardsmen at Jackson Park rescued a man and woman whose 18-foot sailboat was in distress in Lake Michigan a half-mile from shore.

Thunderstorms were forecast for Chicago and vicinity for this afternoon and tonight, with generally fair weather tomorrow.

Order is Entered in Adoption Suit Here

Judge Leon Zick, presiding in Circuit court late Tuesday afternoon entered an order in an adoption suit filed by Mrs. Ida Pence, Rochelle. The decree granted Mrs. Pence custody of Marcia Jean Schryver, seven-year-old daughter by her first marriage to William Schryver, which was dissolved in 1934.

Schryver agreed to pay $15 a week to his former wife for support of the child. Judge Zick granted Schryver custody of the child one weekend each month and for 30 days during the summer months.

CROSSING FATALITIES
Shelbyville, Ill.—(AP)—A truck-train collision at a crossing here yesterday killed Mark Andes, 65, a retired merchant, and James Tubbs, 25. The train, the southbound Zippier of the Chicago & Eastern Illinois railroad, was damaged so it could not continue immediately.

Calling All Cows

Marion, Ill., July 13—(AP)—"Calling all cows! Calling all cows!"

A radio message from Illinois state highway patrol headquarters sent officers Tony Tuncel and E. J. Newman on a new adventure after a farmer telephoned headquarters his pasture fence was down.

Speeding to the scene, the patrolmen posted flares to warn traffic and then took to the fields with flashlights to round up the fugitive cows.

NATIONAL LABOR BOARD JEERED BY ANGRY CROWD

Steubenville Scene of a Demonstration; Hang- ing in Effigy

Steubenville, O., July 13—(AP)—A laughing, jeering throng of approximately 3,000 persons milled in front of the Federal building today, flaunting banners attacking the National Labor Board and shouting protests against the expulsion of a Weirton Steel Company attorney from the board's 11-month-long hearing against the company.

A mass parade from the steel mill town of Weirton, W. Va., to Steubenville was abandoned following the transfer of the hearing to Pittsburgh last night, but 200 steel workers came across the Ohio river in buses and automobiles to join several hundred townspeople.

Although visibly disappointed by the shift of the hearing, which one leader said "ruined" the planned demonstration, the crowd cheered Clyde Armstrong, company attorney barred from the hearing by Examiner E. Grandison Smith, and shouted listily as Smith was hanged in effigy from a hotel window.

Hoisted to the shoulders of two brawny steel workers on the steps of a hotel facing the Federal building, Armstrong cried:

"Grandstand Smith"
"We never would have been able to carry on over there (waving a hand at the Federal building) if it hadn't been for a fine crowd—a group of people like you."

The crowd roared as the straw-stuffed, overall clad dummy bearing a placard "Grandstand Smith" was dropped on a rope from the second floor window of the hotel.

Stores in both Steubenville and Weirton, which had announced they would close for the demonstration remained open.

Weirton Steel, a subsidiary of Ernest T. Weir's National Steel Corporation—one of the group of "little steel" corporations that has persistently refused to bargain with the CIO-affiliated Steel Workers Organizing Committee—is the dominant industry in this district. It is charged with unfair labor practices.

"Stolen" Auto was Found in a Garage

Chief of Police VanBibber and Officers Bohmstiel and Jones were called to a "false alarm" this morning when they investigated the reported theft of a car from the garage of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Talmadge at 404 East Chamberlain street.

The Talmadges later informed the officials the car had been found but not before a description of the automobile had been broadcast by the state police at Sterling.

The mystery of the missing vehicle was unfolded when it was found that Oscar Johnson had been called to get an automobile for repair work at his garage. The address was taken erroneously and the Talmadge car was picked up by mistake.

Fliers Have Completed Over Two-Thirds of World Flight

BULLETIN.
New York, July 13—(AP)—Howard Hughes reported to his flight headquarters at 1:35 P. M. Central Standard Time, today that his plane was 903 miles off Fairbanks, Alaska.

Albert I. Lodwick, Hughes' representative here, said the location given indicated the Hughes' ship would reach Fairbanks at approximately 6:00 P. M. C.S.T.

One position report came from the plane an hour and 21 minutes after the takeoff. No other positions were given to the New York headquarters until the 2:30 P. M. message, relayed here by the army radio station at Seattle.

Yakutsk, Siberia, July 13—(AP)—Howard Hughes took off for Fairbanks, Alaska, at 9:01 P. M. tonight (6:01 A. M. Dixon time) on the fifth leg of his attempt to set a new record for round the world flight.

The American airman and his four companions had remained at Yakutsk only two hours 53 minutes after completing their 2,177-mile hop from Omsk, western Siberia.

(Four and a half hours after his start from Yakutsk aviation authorities in Moscow estimated he had gone some 200 miles beyond the Kolyma river—about 850 miles from Yakutsk—and that if all went well he should reach Fairbanks about 6 P. M. Dixon time.

Hughes' course traverses some 7,000 miles of Soviet territory, and before leaving Yakutsk he telegraphed thanks to Moscow aviation authorities for their cooperation. From somewhere over the Bering Sea, after leaving Soviet territory, he was expected to radio a farewell message to his Russian friends.

Last Stop in Russia
Hughes planned to make Yakutsk his last stop in Soviet Russian territory. He plotted a course of 2,456 miles to Fairbanks, across the northeastern tip of Siberia and the Bering Sea.

However, preparations for an emergency landing have been made at Anadyrsk in case of necessity.

Leaving Yakutsk just 60 hours 41 minutes after their takeoff from New York and with two-thirds of the flight completed, Hughes and his companions were far ahead of the time of the late Wiley Post, who girdled the globe alone in seven days 18 hours 49 minutes in 1933.

(Post flew a different course across Siberia, but his takeoff from Khabarovsk, approximately the same distance from New York as Yakutsk, came 113 hours 58 minutes after his New York takeoff. He made a stop of two hours and 13 minutes at Khabarovsk.)

Hughes had landed his big monoplane at Yakutsk at 6:08 P. M. (3:08 A. M. Dixon time) ending the fourth leg of his flight.

Snatched Brief Rest
The weary aviator immediately snatched a brief rest, afterwards announcing he would take off again "in two or three hours."

The weather was fair.

At Omsk Hughes was greeted warmly by representatives of the regional Soviet executive committee and newspapermen. In a brief interview he said it had rained heavily between Kurgan and Omsk. He flew at an altitude of more than 9,000 feet.

Hughes and his four companions landed here just 57 hours 46 minutes after their takeoff from New York.

Reports of good weather were received from points as far as the Bering Strait, but fog and rain

PAW PAW TEAM LOSSES.

The Paw Paw town team lost a tough one Sunday to Walton in a very close game played at Gibbs grove, Paw Paw. The final score was 4 to 3 in favor of the visitors, although Paw Paw had the lead much of the time.

Walton tallied once in the first half of the first, and Paw Paw responded by tying the score in their half. Paw Paw took the lead in the second when another run was scored.

From then on, there was no change in the score until the sixth when Walton tallied to tie up the ball game at 2 all. Paw Paw scored again in the seventh, but Walton promptly nullified that slim edge, scoring two runs in the eighth frame to win the ball game. Hoffman, Walton pitcher, struck out 13 Paw Paw batters, George, Paw Paw hurler, fanned five of his opponents.

The Paw Paw boys secured nine hits while their opponents were gathering 10. Walton played poor ball in the field, six errors being officially recorded for them. Paw Paw had the other two errors.

Next Sunday, Paw Paw will engage in combat with Rochelle at the latter place.

A New Free Service for HOME LIGHTING

We offer a new, free service to our customers to make seeing easier, lessen the dangers of eyestrain, and make homes better and more cheerful places in which to live.

Lighting can be one of the most attractive as well as useful elements in a home. In fact, it has become one of the important considerations in interior decorating. Good lighting can add to the charm and beauty of any room. Possibly a few simple changes will bring out the daytime beauty of your home, which is now lost with poor, spotty lighting.

At your request a trained Home Lighting Advisor will check the lighting in your home with the scientific new Sight Meter. This precision instrument, which measures light as easily as a thermometer measures heat, will show exactly how much light you have now and will indicate the amounts needed for safe, effortless seeing in every type of visual task.

Our Home Lighting Advisor will give you any suggestions as to how you can get the maximum results from the electricity you use for reading, sewing, studying.

Telephone 345 for an appointment to suit your convenience. There is no cost or obligation in connection with this service.

This is the scientific new Sight Meter that measures light as accurately as a thermometer measures temperature. Let it guard your family against eyestrain. Phone now!

THE STATE: MASTER OR SERVANT?

The new "labor decree" promulgated by the German government is something every American ought to have a look at. It illustrates perfectly the difference between a free society, as we in America visualize it, and a society in which freedom is subordinated to some other end.

This decree, briefly, states that its aim is "to insure a supply of workers for any tasks politically important to the state." It renders every German citizen liable to conscription for any job which the government may care to give him. A citizen so conscripted is guaranteed against any loss of wages, and his old job must be held open for him; nevertheless, the fact of conscription remains, and the upshot is that any citizen may at any time be moved about as the government sees fit.

Now the one big issue which such a law raises is simply this: Does the state exist for the individual, or the individual for the state? The way in which any society tries to answer that question lays bare that society's whole philosophy of life.

Any dictatorship which is based on anything higher than a Latin-American generalissimo's quest for personal power has to justify its existence on the argument that it serves the mass of the people better than the mass could serve itself.

Yet this argument immediately leads one into deep water. For a dictatorship not only assumes to act for the masses it also assumes the right to say what actions are to be taken and what goal is to be sought. It is bound to elevate that abstraction, the state—in other words, itself—into an end in itself, a whole that is greater than the sum of its parts.

Now it ought to be obvious that this is a direct reversal of everything that we in America have always thought about governments.

So when we run into something like this new German labor law we get the clearest possible picture of the difference between a free society and a dictatorship.

In a free society, the state exists for the individual; in a dictatorship, the individual exists for the state.

In the one, the ordinary human being's chance for happiness is the dominant consideration; in the other, it is no consideration at all.

We can do our democracy no greater service than by getting the distinction between these two kinds of society clear in our minds.

MORE DORNICKS INDIANWARD

The Indians have been phenomenally decent about things for generations now. They're probably the most maligned bunch of citizens in the country, and you rarely hear a word of protest from them.

When they're not being treated as curiosities, they're serving as the butts of jokes on such subjects as land speculation, sloth, firewater and female labor. Or sometimes they're just investigated to death.

What's your conception of the typical Indian? Whatever else he may be to you, he's probably close-mouthed, self-contained, grave. But now comes an anthropologist who declares that there's not a word of truth in it. He describes the Indian as a congenial enthusiast, spontaneous, bubbling over with fun, a great joker—in short, quite a card.

This is all dandy, and nothing at all to take offense at, but then the anthropologist goes a little further. He says there's nothing an Indian likes so much as a good, violent practical joke. To Indians, he says, go in for practical jokes in droves, on a kind of mass-production scale. And when they're not doing anything else they're sitting around thing up puns. And they send younger members of the tribes out for left-handed monkey wrenches and then yell with uncontrollable merriment.

The time has come for the red man to organize a Society for Mutual Protection Against the White Man's Slander.

THE GENERAL HAS LEFT

Gen. Baron Alexander von Falkenhausen, chief of the German military board which had been helping the Chinese armies to resist Japanese thrusts, has returned home by order of his government. Falkenhausen, who in civilian clothes might be taken for a professor of poetry in some small college, is not a general at all, although he is said to be one of the world's military geniuses. He never had more than a lieutenant's commission in the German army.

Germany's apparent sympathy with Japanese aims in China will arouse no echoes elsewhere. It is believed that much of China's tactical ability has been available through Falkenhausen and his aides. No civilized nation could condone what has been done in China by the Japanese. The Germans say they have been "driven" into their present understanding with the Japs. If that be true, it is a sad commentary on the blundering of allied statesmen. Nevertheless it is to be doubted whether a German blunder will make the allied blunder any less costly to the German people.

One of the faults of German governments has been that they never get a world viewpoint. They have felt that any means, no matter how deplorable, was justified by a fairly laudable purpose.

LOVE ON THE RANGE

BY NELSON C. NYE

The Story So Far

Trouble is brewing on the Rafter T. Quick-fire "Blur Ankrum, under the name of Abe Streeter, takes a job on the ranch to help lovely Lee Trone. He has a run-in with the range boss, Mose Hackett, and meets Ratchford, the sheriff, and Claydell, a neighboring rancher. Colonel Struthers and his daughter Betty arrive for a visit, and Ankrum recognizes Struthers as Kelton Dreen, cousin of the man he killed to avenge his father's death.

Chapter 11

Licking Flame

Ankrum threw away his cigarette and yawned. "You boys goin' to the dance in Pease Pinto?" "Might—if they hev good lik-ker."

His partner grunted. "I don't like that town. Too crowded an' too partial t'w duds. I get in a fight ever' time I get within gun-shot of the place!"

Ratchford's lips moved faintly, sardonically, in the gloom. One of the punchers said, "Either of you two gents wanta sit in on a game of stud?"

Ankrum shook his head. Ratchford said, "Not me, fella. 'I've played cards with you before."

The two men got up and tramped inside. A moment later Ankrum heard the scraping of a match. A flicker of light came through the window; grew steady and brightened. He heard the men dragging chairs and, a little later, the flap of cards.

"Funny Trone never wired any of these buildings but the ranch-house an' stable."

"Yeah. Where does he get his juice?" Ankrum asked.

"He sent to El Paso for a generator an' some other doo-hickies couple years back. Said he might's well keep up to date. I reckon it was Lee put the idea in his head. He'd just about cut his neck off for that girl an' she for him." Ratchford sighed. "They're pretty close, them two."

"Seen Trone yet?" "No," the sheriff answered. "Reckon it's about time I sauntered over to the house an' had my talk. I been hopin' them friends of his would drift off to bed. I'd prefer to see the Ol' Man alone."

"You'll have a long wait if you're waitin' for them to go to bed. City folks sit up all night. They go to bed with the owls," Ankrum said. "Do think there's anythin' in this rustlin' talk?"

Ratchford fingered his chin. "Don't seem to be any other out-fits losin' critters. They might be keepin' it to themselves, of course. Again, there might really be some stealin' goin' on an' Trone be the only gent that's gettin' hit." With a grunt he rose to his feet, peered down at Ankrum. "You heard what that puncher said."

The sound of voices came to Ankrum from the card players. Now that Ratchford was standing, radiance from the lamp illumined his face. Weariness was written there; in the creases of the brows, in the maze of criss-crossed lines about the eyes. His gaze was melancholy, brooding. "You see, it all ties up with that damn gal that's going around 'bout me bein' out to break the Rafter T."

"Well, there would seem to be some substance for the rumor," Ankrum murmured gently.

The sheriff stiffened. "Yeah— that's why I'd like to get my hands around the neck of the gent that's backin' it. Because my ol' man an' Trone burnt gunpowder years ago folks are willin' to swaller any kind of hog-wash that tends to picture me lookin' for revenge. Damn 'em! I believe in lettin' sleepin' dogs sleep!"

Sense of Evil

Ankrum watched the sheriff strike out across the yard to where lights revealed the uncurtained windows of the ranch-house. As he watched Ratchford's broad back sharp and black against those lights, conflicting thoughts struggled to adjust themselves upon his mind.

There was much about this sheriff he did not understand, he told himself. A vital, magnetic figure, there was yet something about him, some latent force, some indefinable sense of evil, that made a man hesitate to trust him far or to put faith in his words.

Just why this was, Ankrum could not say. But the feeling lingered. He could not shake it. Some way, big and magnetic as he was, Tom Ratchford measured short in Ankrum's estimation.

He wondered if Ratchford had been trying to talk him into something; if Ratchford in springing Bandera's name had hoped to take him by surprise. How much did this sheriff suspect? How much did he know? Did he really connect Abe Streeter with the Arizona smookeroo, Blur Ankrum? Or was he—

"Shucks," Ankrum muttered, "Looks like I'm tryin' to develop a case of nerves."

Then he chuckled softly as he recalled the sheriff's statement that Bandera was lined up against the Trones. That would mean that Bandera either was in the country now or would shortly be coming in. It had been well over a year since his and Bandera's trails had crossed. In old Nogales it had happened. He remembered the circumstances well. He had taken malicious pleasure that night in upsetting a little deal the Mexican had been striving to bring off. An amusing case of "biter-bit" he'd made it, leaving Bandera seething with fury, swearing revenge by every saint in the calendar.

With another chuckle Ankrum rose to his feet, lounged against the shadowed wall while he fished the makings from his pocket and rolled a cigarette. He would have a final smoke, and then go hunt his bunk. His left hand rolled the quirely while his right sought the band about his hat, procured a match and struck it. The bursting flame illumined his face and brought out the sharp angles of it.

Even as the match burst into flame, another flame licked out from the shadows beneath an ancient pepper tree thirty yards away. The cigarette ripped from Ankrum's mouth, so close had been the miss. A report smashed loudly on the stillness, flattened out across the yard, beat up against the buildings. And on its heels another, even as Ankrum whirled, his hand streaking to the waistband of his trousers. A blur of motion stirred the shadows beneath the foliage; something dropped heavily in the dust.

With gun ready in his hand Ankrum sprinted forward. He jerked to a stop before the tree as a vague white figure snapped up from the ground to confront him. It was the figure of a girl.

'Duck Out of This'

"Who—who are you?"

"Abe Streeter, ma'am. Was that you doing that shootin'?"

"No—yes! No! No, of course not!"

Despite the agitation in her voice Ankrum realized that this was not Lee Trone. Therefore, he realized it must be the golden-haired creature posing as Betty Struthers. What was she doing here? What was that thing in her hand? Ankrum leaned closer and saw that it was a pistol; he saw also that with her other hand the girl was pressing something to her breast—something that looked like folded papers.

"What are you doing here?" he whispered. "What have you got in your hands?"

She drew back. The hand with the papers disappeared inside the neckline of her dress and came out empty. Ankrum heard the sound of running footsteps. People would soon be upon them, hurling questions.

"Duck out of this," he said. "I'll see you later."

She peered at him strangely. Then suddenly she turned and ran. A man came pounding up, grabbed Ankrum by the arm.

"What's goin' on?" he growled. "What was all that shootin'?"

"What was all that shootin'?" he growled. "What was all that shootin'?"

The WASHINGTON MERRY-GO-ROUND

ABOARD THE PRESIDENT'S TRAIN

The President should not have to go to great lengths to secure the re-nomination of his friend Senator Elbert Thomas of Utah, because he has already gone down the line for Thomas in a way which must have made Senator Robinson turn over in his grave. For in the closing days of Congress, unobserved by the general public, Roosevelt sent to the Senate the name of Edgar Brossard for reappointment as a member of the Tariff Commission.

This appointment may be contrasted with the fact that Democratic attacks on Brossard once were just as bitter as the Republicans are in castigating Harry Hopkins for engaging in politics.

Brossard was a Utah lobbyist for the Mormon beet sugar interests, whom Senator Reed Smoot, a high official in the church, got appointed to the Tariff Commission at a time when the tariff fixed on sugar was under consideration.

Later, when the Democrats forced an investigation of sugar, the late Senator Joe Robinson secured testimony from Brossard that he had had nothing to do with consideration of the tariff on sugar. But after this the books of the night watchman were produced showing that Brossard had come to the Tariff Commission every night that the sugar report was being written, sometimes remaining there until 2:30 A. M.

Criticism of Brossard was so intense that it was only the powerful influence of Senator Reed Smoot which secured his reappointment by Hoover in 1931. No Democrat dreamed at that time that a Democratic President would ever reappoint him for another seven years.

Reason: Senator Elbert Thomas is under fire from the Mormon church (one of the biggest sugar growers in the world), and it wanted Brossard re-appointed. So with Thomas facing a hard primary fight, the President obliged.

Bumpers

They have a very neat system on this train for getting rid of "visiting firemen" who persist in taking up the President's time. They use what the newsmen call "bumpers."

When a local politico has had the President's ear too long, one of his secretaries quietly signals a member of the White House party. The latter approaches and with a regretful smile to the visitor says, "Pardon me, Mr. President, but that matter you asked me to prepare for you is in your room."

"Thank you, thank you," the President replies and then to his caller, "You'll pardon me, won't you? Some papers that I have to get off at once."

Suavest "bumper" on the train is Lawrence (Chip) Robert, secretary of the Democratic National Committee, whose Georgia charm and wit have few equals in the political arena.

Mormons on WPA

Utah continues to be a New Deal State, but the leaders of the Mormon Church certainly have no great love for Roosevelt. One of their clashes has been over the handling of relief money, which for a long time was administered by the Mormon Church itself.

The Mormons finally abandoned their plan of providing relief for their own poor, even though they boasted it to be the finest system in the country, and succumbed to the acceptance of federal funds.

But in doing so, WPA officials discovered that Mormon relievers were paying their tithes to the church out of WPA funds. This amounts to one-tenth of all each

That shot came along an' snicked it right out of my mouth."

"Kinda close, eh?"

"Well, I don't know. The fellow might have been aimin' to have some fun with me. I mean he might have done it on purpose."

"Ain't no one round here could shoot that good." Ratchford grunted. "Exceptin' maybe—Claydell. An' Claydell hasn't got here yet. Prob'ly changed his mind an' decided to postpone his visit till tomorrow," he cleared his throat. "This where you figured them shots came from?"

"One, anyway. First one, I think, I ain't sure about the second. When that cigarette went skally-hootin' I whirled an' saw a blur among the shadows here under this tree an' came peltin' over. Hadn't had a chance to make out anything when up comes you an' these others."

A bobbing light showed Ankrum a man running toward them with a lantern. Ratchford took the lantern from him and held it high above his head. In the sand a short three feet away a shape lay motionless.

YOUR OPINION—1

"The keenest anguish known to human nature is the pain of a new idea." (Bagehot). We hope this column brings you pain.

Answer to Question No. 1

1. This is a simple inherited trait which probably arose in some family suddenly by "mutation," centuries ago. It comes about as near to being a pure "dominant" trait, like brown eyes, as any human trait we know of. It never skips a generation, just as brown eyes never skip, provided one or both parents were "pure" brown-eyed—which does not mean "pure" for color but that all their germ-cells carried determiners for brown pigment. A fine trait for Trait Scouts to hunt for.

Answer to Question No. 3

2. Yes, one's physical speed does sicw down but his experience and judgment—usually, not always—improve. The net result is that drivers between 40 and 50 are the safest of all. I think it extremely doubtful that anybody under 20 should be allowed to drive a car, as I showed recently, such drivers kill about 8,000 persons more every year than their share of the killings, if divided proportionally among all ages. A frightful indictment of youth!

Answer to Question No. 2

3. A number of psychologists have studied this problem by giving groups of women certain tasks and having them estimate in advance how long each task would require—such tasks as adding up figures, running both social and non-social errands, copying diagrams, etc., and all but two have found that women greatly over-estimate the required time. Two competent psychologists, George and Martha Dudycha of Ripon College have repeated experiments—apparently more carefully than ever before—and they find no difference between men and women. They found women allow themselves more time in doing the jobs and do them more methodically but in advance they guess the same amount of time as the men.

member gets from the Government.

Harry Hopkins' office argued emphatically against this—with no luck. Finally, two members of the Utah state relief board requested Sylvester Q. Cannon, presiding bishop of the church, to issue a statement that Mormons seeking public aid did not have to make title payments.

To this Bishop Cannon replied: "I most certainly will not do that. I wouldn't be a party to robbing a bank, or these poor people of their churchly blessings."

Ohio Aftermath

An aftermath of the President's hit-and-run endorsement of Senator Robert Bulkley in the Marietta, Ohio, speech is the story told on the train that it did not disturb former Governor George White, who is running against him. White was on the platform with Bulkley when the President spoke.

"What did you think of it?" asked a friend.

"Oh, it wasn't much," drawled White. "The President dragged the endorsement in by the neck and he wasn't pulling very much when he did it."

Note—Local politicians told the President privately that Bulkley would lick White by a good margin.

Pope of Idaho

There is one primary bout not far off his route which Roosevelt certainly would visit if he thought it necessary—namely Idaho, where his friend Senator Jim Pope is being opposed by Representative Worth Clark.

But Roosevelt doesn't think it necessary. All reports indicate that Pope has a walk-away. But the Idaho primary is interesting because of the personalities involved. Pope and Clark being as different as the Great Salt Lake and the turbulent rivers of the Sierra.

Pope is amiable, placid, dependable, hard-working, serious-minded, never deviates from the goal ahead of him. Clark is young, vivacious, charming, frequently mixes congressional sessions, fluctuates back and forth between pro-Roosevelt and anti-Roosevelt policies.

Pope follows a clock-like routine. He gets up at 6 A. M. whether it be snowing or sultry hot, and motors to a Maryland golf course to play with Senator Ellender of Louisiana. Returning at 8:45, he eats a large breakfast of bacon and eggs. His family says he never varies.

In the Senate, he is always on the dot for the roll-call, seldom misses a session, remains on the floor throughout the lunch hour.

Pope came to the Senate rather naive, inexperienced, and suffering because few people in the USA realized that Idaho had another Senator besides Borah. Now he has become an effective operator who for the first time in three decades has put the Junior Senator from Idaho on the map.

Congressman Clark

Worth Clark, Pope's opponent, is a likeable man who is such a good mixer that it plays havoc with his voting record. Since coming to Congress in 1935 he has been present 105 times and absent 126, not counting the last weeks of the recent campaign when he returned to Idaho for his primary campaign.

Clark's social activities also got him into trouble during the fight over the Holding Company Bill, when it was discovered that he was living in the same house and enjoying a round of summer bachelor parties with the chief public utilities lobbyist.

Even more amusing has been Clark's zig-zag from conservative to liberal. In the wage-hour fight, for instance, he first joined Roosevelt's enemies to pocket the bill in committee, later completely reversed himself by signing the petition to bring the bill to a vote.

Note—Senator Pope is one of the few members of Congress who turned back to the Treasury the railroad fare (about $800) to which he was entitled between the special and regular sessions of Congress last winter. Most Far Western Congressmen pocketed the money but stayed in Washington.

Penna. Governor Denounces Judge

Harrisburg, Pa., July 13.—(AP)—Governor George H. Earle, denouncing the courts which ordered a grand jury investigation of his administration, asserted today Judge Paul N. Schaeffer, in charge of the proceedings, "has acted in a most disgraceful manner."

The governor said in a statement that Schaeffer's "entire conduct has been characterized by vacillation, weakness, fear of criticism of the press, and complete domination of his actions by the Republican judges of Dauphin county (Harrisburg)."

Judge Schaeffer was named by the Supreme Court to take over the case after the Dauphin county judges, to whom the original request for a grand jury probe was made, asked to be relieved of the responsibility.

A Dauphin county grand jury composed of 13 Republicans and 11 Democrats has been summoned to begin August 8 an investigation of the charges against Earle and 13 of his associates.

The charges, listed by Judge Schaeffer in his order for the investigation, include "conspiracy to cheat and defraud the commonwealth, to extort money and levy blackmail, and to engage in corrupt solicitation."

Relatives of Wade

Family Have Reunion

Relatives from Freeport, Dixon, Sterling, Oregon, and Galesburg attended the annual Wade reunion Sunday at Krape park, Freeport. A picnic dinner was served at 1:30 o'clock, and afterward, the following officers were elected:

President, Clarence Meek, Freeport; vice president, Harry Wade, Dixon; secretary-treasurer, Mrs. Loren Wade, Sterling; refreshment chairman, Glen Wade, Sterling; entertainment chairman, Mrs. Howard Kaiser, Freeport.

Ice cream and cake were served at the close of the afternoon. Those attending were Mrs. Emma Meek, Saah Wade, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Meek and family, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Hess and daughter, H. E. Kaiser, Mr. and Mrs. Howard J. Kaiser, J. W. Good, Edna Good, Mr. and Mrs. Irvin Barr and sons, Freeport; Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Wade, Mr. and Mrs. Loren Wade and family, Mr. and Mrs. Glen Wade and family, Harold Wade, Ralph Wade, and Mr. and Mrs. Harry Wade of Sterling, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Wade and daughter Phyllis, Dr. H. E. Wade, Oregon; Mr. and Mrs. Rex Wade and daughter Barbara, Galesburg; and Mr. and Mrs. Harry Wade and Mr. and Mrs. F. Wade, Dixon.

AFTERNOON UNIT ELECTS OFFICERS

Election of officers featured the July meeting of the Dixon Afternoon Home Bureau unit, held recently at the home of Mrs. Clarence Bothe. Fourteen members and guests attended.

Officers named were: Chairman, Mrs. Edward Fisher; vice chairman, Mrs. Edward Schick; secretary, Mrs. Calvin Brown; treasurer, Mrs. Leon Miller.

A picnic for the unit members and their families was planned for Sunday, August 7, at Lowell park. Miss Elizabeth Coleman presented the major lesson, "Collar Lines and Effect of Texture," and minor discussions led by Miss Coleman and Mrs. Richard Henderson, centered about "Table Etiquette" and "Table Courtesies."

GEHANT FAMILY HAS REUNION

Henry L. Gehant of Dixon was reelected president by members of the Gehant family at their sixth annual reunion Sunday at the Ambloy city park. Claude Gehant of Aurora was retained as vice president, and X. F. Gehant will continue to serve as secretary-treasurer of the association.

Approximately 125 members of the clan attended including 20 or more relatives from Dixon, Peoria and watermelon eating contests provided fun for the guests during the afternoon. Grover Gehant, county judge, and Henry L. Gehant, chairman of the board of supervisors, made short talks concerning their work.

SOUTH DIXON HOME BUREAU UNIT

Twenty-two members and guests attended the monthly meeting for the South Dixon Home Bureau unit yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Emil Matzinger. Miss Elizabeth Coleman, the home adviser, gave information on "Collar Lines and Effect of Texture," Mrs. Carl Blum directed motion songs and Mrs. Noah Bead presented the minor lesson on "Table Service."

Election of officers was planned for next month's meeting, scheduled for Aug. 9. Refreshments were served by the hostess.

MEMPHIS GUESTS ENTERTAINED HERE

Mr. and Mrs. T. C. Saunders of Memphis, Tenn., have been visiting at the home of her sister, Mrs. O. L. Gearhart, 721 Ottawa, and have been the incentive for a round of informal parties since their arrival a week ago.

Mr. Saunders left this morning for Cincinnati, enroute home. Mrs. Gearhart will accompany her sister to Champaign Sunday, and will remain for a day or so at the home of their father, L. M. VanInwegen.

HIGHLAND AVENUE CLUB HAS PICNIC

Forty-three members and guests attended the family picnic for members of the Highland Avenue club last evening in Lowell park. Picquet was suggested for pastime following the supper.

Mesdames Norman W. Dietrich, Albert Post, James E. Curran and Paul Orsavage were co-hostesses. Further meetings of the club will be omitted until Tuesday evening, September 13.

Former Tennesseans Hold Annual Reunion; More than 500 Attend

More than 500 guests, the largest crowd in the history of the association, thronged Martin's woods west of Oregon on Sunday for the fourteenth annual reunion for former Tennesseans of northern Illinois.

An old-fashioned, southern style barbecue featured the basket dinner, served in the grove.

Emmet Martin of Oregon was general chairman, S. N. Shepherd of Rockford acted as master of ceremonies during a special program broadcast over a loud speaking system. Mr. Shepherd was also in charge of contests, in which the winners received prizes donated by the business men of Oregon.

Last year's officers were retained for the coming year. They include: President, J. S. Rodeffer, Mount Morris; vice president, S. N. Shepherd, Rockford; secretary-treasurer, I. D. Rodeffer, Mount Morris. Charles Reed and Emmet and Paul Martin of Oregon, and Roy Ballard of Mount Morris compose the arrangement committee.

The afternoon program included banjo selections by John Griffin and son John of Davis Junction, with guitar accompaniment by John Manis of Mount Morris, Hawaiian guitar music by Atha and Bertha Marssett, and Wanda and Velma Harmon of DePue, music by an instrumental trio composed of Doak Carter, T. Russel and Elmer Norm of Beloit, Wis., a vocal duet by Evelyn Gann of Freeport and Blanch Piper of Dixon with guitar accompaniment by Roberta Piper of Dixon, and songs with guitar accompaniment by Mrs. F. J. O'Rourke. Reed's grove, three miles west of Oregon on the Pines State Park road was chosen as next year's meeting place.

Committees are Named to Complete Plans for Dixon College Reunion

County Superintendent of Schools L. W. Miller today announced the committees for the Dixon College reunion to be held here on Saturday, August 20. Mr. Miller is president of the organization and is assisted by Mrs. Coral W. Lambert as secretary-treasurer.

The committees for the annual event are as follows: nominations, S. M. Brown, Mrs. August DeLorbe and John P. Devine; luncheon and banquet, Mrs. Diona C. Miller; publicity, Miss Esther M. Conley; radio publicity, Robert A. Rodesch; resolutions, Grover W. Gehant and Henry C. Warner; transportation, Arthur G. Harris. Reunion headquarters will be at the Nachusa hotel and the forenoon will be devoted to registration, greetings and reminiscence. A luncheon has been planned at the hotel where the business meeting will be conducted.

In the afternoon a tour will be made to such present-day places of interest as the Lincoln Statue, Lowell park, the Pines state park, and Blackhawk statue.

At 6:30 in the evening a banquet will be held at the Masonic Temple followed by a program of entertainment and an informal dance.

MRS. SHAWGER

ENTERTAINS AT PICNIC

Mrs. Clara Shawger was hostess to 25 of her boarders and invited guests last evening, entertaining the group at Lowell park with a picnic supper and wiener roast. Boating and soft ball were enjoyed following the supper hour.

Goodbyes were said to one of the group, Robert Bowman of Keewauke, who left this morning for a three weeks' vacation in Minnesota.

Mrs. Shawger's guests were Mr. and Mrs. Charles Redebaugh, the Misses Anna Marie Schafer, Dorothy Schafer, Clara Gray, Lois Stimeling, Margaret Klapprodt, Miss Woodyatt, Wesley Kilmer, Jack McKim, Jerry Ziegler, Dick Johns, Thomas Murphy, Robert Bowman, John Bowman, Joseph Ball, Philip Lightstone, Howard Ott, Maynard Wendt, Ladd Burroughs, Gene Goddard, Charles Ross, Clifford Swannlund, Leo Miles and Arthur Nassey.

ENTERTAIN OAK PARK AND IOWA GUESTS

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Crews entertained during the week end at Oak Park and Iowa guests, including Mr. and Mrs. Paul Crews of Iowa City, recently married. The bride is the former Miss Vesta Meyers, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Meyers of Colfax, Iowa.

Others in the Crews party were Don Crews, Hayden Thomas, Mr. and Mrs. George L. Crews, Miss Eva Creighton, Andrew Foster, and Mrs. Mary Creighton, all of Oak Park, and Paul Stufflebeam and children of Iowa City.

WOMEN'S FORESTERS TO MEET

Mrs. Kathryn L. Conroy of Chicago, organizer from the high court, is to be guest of the Women's Catholic Order of Foresters Thursday evening. A special meeting has been announced for 7:30 at the K. C. home.

$Make New, Flared Aprons

Marian Martin

PATTERN 9628

Everybody's saying it—that the flared apron with non-slip straps is the coolest, most satisfactory cover-all you can wear. Here is a triumph among triumphs, Marian Martin's Pattern 9628—and you can make it up in two or more ways, according to the trim you use. Percale or cretonne with ric-rac braid is a splendid choice for one of the styles—and ruffle-edged batiste or dotted swiss for the other, dressier design. The high-waisted skirt panel and bodice are cut in one piece, also the shoulder straps and bodice back; such things speed up the making.

Pattern 9628 may be ordered only in sizes small, medium and large. Small sizes, View A, requires 1½ yards 36 inch fabric, and ¾ yard ric-rac, view B, 1½ yards 36 inch fabric, and 1½ yards ruffling.

Send fifteen cents in coins for each Marian Martin pattern. Be sure to write plainly your size, name, address and style number.

See our Marian Martin Pattern Book of Summer Styles before deciding on your summer wardrobe! Designed for you, for every occasion, this collection of beautifully-fitting patterns contains all those up-to-the-minute styles that have been looking for. Fashion firsts for daughters and mothers; cool breezy frocks for glorious vacation trips or a summer at home; vivacious play-time styles are included. Write for your copy today. Price of book fifteen cents. Price of pattern fifteen cents. Book and pattern together twenty-five cents.

A most delightful time is reported by the group. Shore Acres is one of the largest and most beautiful country club in this state.

W. C. T. U. NOTES

Rain again prevented the W. C. T. U. from meeting with Mrs. Weybright as previously planned, so the meeting was held at the home of Mrs. C. W. Lahman, who has been sick for several weeks and unable to attend the meetings of the Union.

The weather on Friday afternoon, July 8, was beautiful after the cleansing showers, and a large number of members and friends gathered at the appointed hour. The meeting opened with devotions, led by Mrs. Margaret Hicks. Roll call was answered by current events.

The local union had furnished temperance material for the Daily Vacation Bible school, and Mrs. Verda Blocher, one of the teachers, told very interestingly of the way it was used by the various groups. She exhibited some of the posters which had been colored by the children after they had listened to the accompanying story. Two of the pupils, Gwendolyn Studebaker and Jackie Canode, were present and sang some of the temperance songs that had been used in the Bible school. They were very much enjoyed by all present.

The Road Sign committee reported that the sign had been placed on the south side of the highway a short distance west of town, where it may be easily read by motorists. The ground for its location, the cement and other material used, also the necessary labor were all donated, and the county W. C. T. U. as well as the local union are most grateful for the fine spirit of co-operation shown. These signs, which are a part of the National Alcohol Education plan, are being placed along main traveled roads throughout the country, and so far two signs have been allotted to Lee county.

Mrs. Weybright then read an article from the "Time" magazine, telling of how the opium trade is being revived in China at the present time, by the Japanese militarists.

The date being so close to Independence Day, a patriotic program had been planned, but the appointed leader, Miss Odella Helmershausen, was not able to be present, so it was somewhat curtailed. Poems and quotations concerning the flag were very helpful, and Mrs. Lahman exhibited the beautiful state flag of Illinois. Some were surprised to learn that there is a flag for each state as well as the flag of our nation, the Stars and Stripes.

The president's proclamation, urging the observance of the 150th anniversary of the adoption of the Constitution, was read. The time for this observance is the period from 1837 to 1939, and many different methods are being used in various communities—plays, pageants, tree-planting memorial programs, etc. A short series of quotations from the Christian Citizenship Department of the W. C. T. U. was given, with some discussion. We were glad to welcome a new member, Mrs. Herman Hanson, also to receive a card of greeting from a former member, Mrs. Mary Irvin, who is visiting a daughter in Leaf River.

Plans were announced of the campaign which is being put forward under the co-operation of the National W. C. T. U. and the Vaughn Seed Co. of Chicago, to plant the Frances Willard Peony in memory of Miss Willard, whose centenary birthday is to be nationally observed in 1939. By planting these peonies this fall, in August or September, they should be blooming in 1939.

Mrs. Sunday gave a short report of the Regional W. C. T. U. conference which was held at Sandwich, June 21. The main thought left with those present at the conference was "It is not so much a question of where you stand concerning liquor, but in what direction are you moving?" Lovely refreshments were served by the assistant hostess, Mrs. Mary Weybright, and a pleasant social period followed, after which the group dispersed, planning to meet on August 5, with the Misses Adella and Alice Helmershausen for the annual guest day and picnic dinner. Further announcements will be made later.

COACHES OPEN ALL-STAR POLL WITH BALLOTS

Three Leading Mentors of Nation Make Choices

Chicago, July 13.—(AP)—College gridiron stars of big name schools stepped away to early leads in the nationwide poll to select the team which will appear against the professional Washington Redskins at Soldier Field Aug. 31 and held first place today at all positions except center.

Leading at the pivot position was a big center, Ed Lesnick, from a small school, Illinois State Normal, Lesnick, whose home is in Berlin, Wis., not only led all centers, but all players in the running with a total of 11,148 votes, first returns disclosed. Balloting, which is being conducted by the Chicago Tribune and 150 associated newspapers, will close July 24.

The leaders:

Ends: Kovatch, Northwestern, 8,452; Sweeney, Notre Dame, 8,063; Souchak, Pittsburgh, 7,976.

Tackles: Shirey, Nebraska, 6,691; Franko, Fordham, 5,886; Woltman, Purdue, 5,507.

Guards: Zarnas, Ohio State, 7,378; Calvano, Northwestern, 6,617; Monksy, Alabama, 6,602.

Centers: Lesnick, Illinois Normal, 11,148; McCarthy, Notre Dame, 5,902; Wojciechowski, Fordham, 3,816.

Quarterbacks: Pupils, Notre Dame, 7,522; Plichock, Indiana, 6,814; Vanzo, Northwestern, 3,147.

Halfbacks: Cecil Isbell, Purdue, 5,108; White, Colorado, 4,954; Heap, Northwestern, 4,825.

Fullbacks: Patrick, Pittsburgh, 9,476; Davis, Indiana, 7,982; Chapman, California, 4,318.

First returns in the nation-wide player poll conducted by the Chicago Tribune and 150 associated newspapers to determine the personnel of the 1938 College All-Star squad brought ballots from three of the leading coaches of the country.

Among the thousands of ballots cast yesterday in the first day of voting, tabulators found the selections of Coaches Bernie Bierman, University of Minnesota; Bernie Moore, Louisiana State University; and James Phelan, University of Washington. The three differed considerably on what they considered the best lineup to start against the Washington Redskins, world professional champions, on Soldiers' field on the night of August 31. Only two players, Charles Sweeney, Notre Dame end, and Clint Frank, Yale's sensational back, were unanimous choices of the trio.

Bierman, whose Minnesota eleven have been among the strongest in the country for the last few years, coached the 1935 All-Star team which played a 7 to 7 tie with the Detroit Lions. Moore and Phelan helped Coach Charles (Gus) Dorais, of the University of Detroit, prepare the All-Stars for their 6 to 0 victory over the Green Bay Packers last year.

Rates Only One Gopher

Bierman named players from nine schools and rated only one of his mighty Gophers, Lou Midler, worthy of a place in the starting line-up. He selected two linemen from Fordham and two from Nebraska. His team follows:

Ends—Charles Sweeney, Notre Dame; Elmer Dohrmann, Nebraska.

Tackles—Fred Shirey, Nebraska; Al Babartsky, Fordham.

Guards—Lou Midler, Minnesota; Ed Franco, Fordham.

Center—Mickey Parks, Oklahoma.

Quarter Back—John Michelosen, Pittsburgh.

Half Backs—Sam Chapman, California; Clint Frank, Yale.

Full Back—Corby Davis, Indiana.

Six of Moore's eleven candidates distinguished themselves on southern gridirons. Like Bierman, he named only one of his own players, placing Charles Rohm at half back to block for Frank. He agrees with the Minnesota coach in three positions, nominating Frank, Sweeney and Franco, but prefers to play Franco at tackle instead of guard.

His team:

Ends—Andy Bershak, North Carolina; Charles Sweeney, Notre Dame.

Tackles—Frank Kinard, Mississippi; Ed Franco, Fordham.

Bits of Gossip of Sports Picked Up By AP Writer

BY EDDIE BRIETZ

New York, July 13.—(AP)—Eddie Miller, shortstop of the Yankees, and Kansas City Blues, is ready to step right into Frank Crosetti's shoes when and if Frankie begins to slip, which ain't yet. They say the kid is the best defensive shortstop the American Association has seen since Glenn Wright. Barney Ross and his good-looking better half are packing up for a jaunt through Europe. The delegation that met Schmeling could have held skull practice in a telephone booth.

Charles Rohm, Louisiana State, "Full Back—Hugh Wolfe, Texas. Markov Placed

Phelan also found only one man among his own players whom he felt could meet the requirements of all-American competition. He placed his stellar lineman, Vic Markov, at tackle and teamed White and Frank in the backfield with two Big Ten stars, Cecil Isbell of Purdue, and Davis, Phelan's candidates follow:

Ends—Ray King, Minnesota; Charles Sweeney, Notre Dame.

Tackles—Vic Markov, Washington; Frank Kinard, Mississippi.

Guards—Leroy Monksy, Alabama; Joe Routt, Texas Aggies.

Center—Carl Hinkle, Vanderbilt.

Quarter Back—Clint Frank, Yale.

Half Backs—Byron White, Colorado; Cecil Isbell, Purdue.

Full Back—Corby Davis, Indiana.

Balloting in the player's poll will continue for two weeks. Players in each of the eleven positions receiving the largest number of votes will start the game against the Redskins, the fifth in the series originated by the Tribune in 1934.

If injury during the three weeks practice period at Northwestern or some other circumstance prevents a player from taking his place in the starting lineup, the man with the next largest number of votes in that position will be moved up to face the Redskins at the kickoff.

First returns in the poll will be published on Wednesday.

PIRATES HOLD FIRST PLACE; GIANTS LOSE

American Loop Also Almost Changed Leaders

BY HUGH S. FULLERTON, JR.

Associated Press Sports Writer.

Back home in first place! That has a comfortable sound for any ball club, especially one which hasn't had a taste of World Series glory for more than a decade.

That's just the position of the Pittsburgh Pirates today. They finished up their road chores in Chicago yesterday by pounding out a 14 to 6 victory over the hapless Cubs. It was their 13th straight win—the longest streak since 1922 when they also won 13—and it put them in the lead by a hair's breadth or two.

Today they return home to face the National league's eastern clubs, starting with the Brooklyn Dodgers, who knocked their hated rivals, the New York Giants, out of the lead yesterday by beating them 13-5.

By one way of counting, the Giants have a half-game bulge, but since they have played more games, their percentage is lower, .635 to Pittsburgh's .638. And that's what they pay off on.

Indians Lost.

The American league came close to having a shift in leadership as well, for the Cleveland Indians took a 9-8 setback at Washington in the first game of their eastern tour while the fast stepping New York Yankees knocked off the St. Louis Browns twice, 7-3 and 10-5. The Tribe managed to hold the top by a half-game margin, but the Yanks and their backers figure it's just a matter of time before they cut that down.

Brooklyn, incidentally, explored the stratospheric heights of sixth place for the first time since the middle of May as they gained their first triumph over the Giants in eleven clashes. The Cincinnati Reds beat out St. Louis 6-5 in the other National league game and dropped the Cards to seventh.

The remaining major league contest saw the Chicago White Sox, scoring five runs on homers by Mike Kreevich and Joe Kuhel, to hand the Athletics their eighth straight defeat, 8-6. Detroit and the Boston Red Sox were rained out while the Phillies and Boston Bees had an open date.

17-Hit Pirate Attack.

Al Todd and Paul Waner paced the 17-hit Pirate attack that gave the Cubs their sixth straight setback. Todd drove in five runs with a homer, double and single while Waner made four singles.

The Giants didn't exactly throw away their game, but four errors were an important factor in Brooklyn's eight-run first inning and so were four passes.

Lou Gehrig and Joe DiMaggio contributed homers, the 14th for each, to the Yankee twin win, and Red Ruffing batted in three runs with a pair of doubles in the opener to help win his 12th game.

The Indians played one of their regular "staggering" games. They rallied twice to take the lead, gained the 8-8 tie in the ninth when Bill Zuber and Johnny Humphries loaded the sacks in the ninth and Sam West's fly scored Ossie Bluge from third.

LOUIS, TUNNEY IN
Ring Refereeing
Bouts Tonight

Chicago, July 13.—(AP)—Joe Louis and Gene Tunney will step into the same ring tonight—as referees in the international bouts at Soldier field between Ireland's ranking amateurs and the Catholic youth boxing team of Chicago.
---	--	--	--	--

The present champion and the former champion who retired undefeated will officiate in several bouts as the Chicagoans risk an unbeaten record of seven years' standing in intercity and international competition. Three of the Irish boxers—Frank Kerr, Ernie Smith and Dick Hearn—fought here in the bouts, which Ireland lost to the 1933 International Golden Gloves team.
--	--	--	--	--

Radio equipment is being installed in locomotives in Sweden to transmit warning signals to receiving stations at grade crossings. Loudspeakers at grade crossings will warn motorists of approaching trains.
--	--	--	--	--

It is rumored that a giant land plane is being built for the army by Boeing. The plane is reported to span almost 250 feet from wing-tip to wing-tip and weighs 160,000 pounds.
---	--	--	--	--

Chicago, July 13.—(AP)—The Decatur Commodore were a full game nearer the top of the Three-Eye League today.
---	--	--	--	--

Continuing their winning ways they beat the Cedar Rapids Red Raiders last night, 3 to 1, while Waterloo was jumping on two Evansville pitchers for 12 hits and a 9 to 6 victory.
--	--	--	--	--

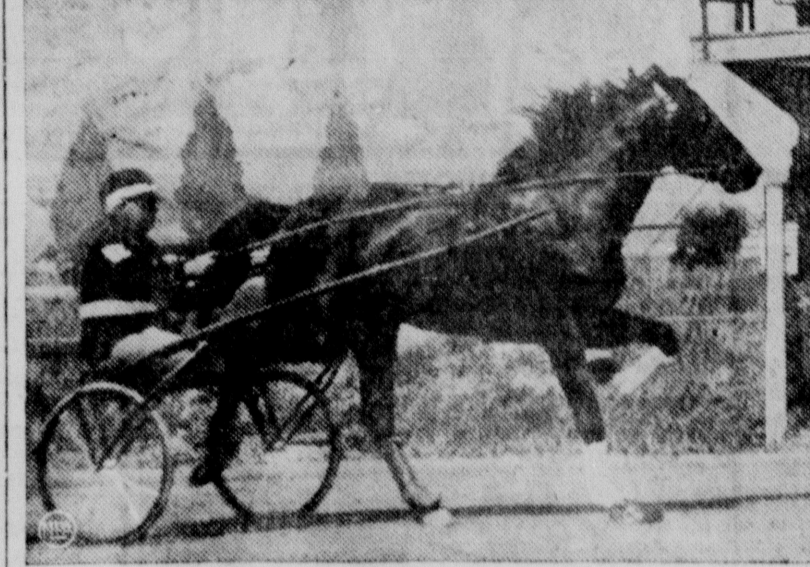

The Evansville defeat put the Commodore five and a half games behind the league leaders.
--	--	--	--	--

Bloomington rallied in each of the four closing innings last night at Clinton to beat the Owls, 6 to 5.
---	--	--	--	--

Moline took the first game of a doubleheader from Springfield, 7 to 1, but the Plovers fell before a blast of hits to lose the second, 12 to 2.

Sets Record in Hambletonian Prelude

Long Key, Ben F. White up, crosses the finish line a winner in the third and deciding mile of the Championship Stallion Stake at North Randall, Cleveland. Long Key scored in the fastest three-heat race trotted in the fixture since its inauguration in 1910. In the second heat, E. J. Merkle's 3-year-old equaled the record mile of 2:01 1/4 for the trot, set by Greyhound in 1935. The brown son of Peter-Volo-Isola's Worthy clinched the long end of the $6185 purse by taking the third mile in 2:02. Champlain won the second in 2:01 1/4. The Championship Stallion Stake is a prelude to the rich Hambletonian, which is to be run at Goshen, N. Y., Aug. 10.

CUMMINGS ASKS FULL SUPPORT OF KNACKS SUNDAY

The Dixon Knacks have five more games to play in the Illinois State league and none of these games are set up, Sunday at Reynolds field they play Ohio and the following Sunday they travel to Maytown where they will try to seek revenge for the 10 to 6 defeat that Maytown handed them when it really hurt. If it wasn't for that defeat the Knacks would be tied for the leadership with West Brooklyn and Walton.

Sunday, July 31 at Reynolds field the Knacks will play Walton and will this be

SHARE $75,000 ESTATE

Chicago—(AP)—George A. Waldorf, manager of the bond trading division of the Continental Illinois National Bank & Trust Company, left the bulk of his estimated $75,000 estate to relatives. He died June 17 at the age of 49 and his will was filed for probate yesterday. The relatives who will share the estate are Mrs. Nellie Reichert, Canton, Ill., a sister, two brothers, Cass of La Harpe, Ill., and Frank of Alhambra, Cal., and a niece, Mrs. Helen Bagley Hanson of Bismarck, N. D. One thousand dollars each was left to the First Presbyterian church at Canton, and to another sister, Edith Waldorf, of Peoria.

CHIEF WRITES LETTERS

TO CAREFUL DRIVERS

Austin, Tex. (AP)—Chief R. D. Thorpe of the Austin police department believes a good automobile driver should be commended for driving carefully if he had ones are to be arrested.

So he asked traffic officers to report instances of careful driving in known dangerous spots. The chief writes the driver a personal letter—not a form one—telling him that his careful driving had been noted.

APPOINTMENT OF NEW JUSTICE IS UP TO PRESIDENT

Roosevelt May Delay Selection of Successor to Cardozo

Washington, July 13.—(AP)—The possibility that President Roosevelt might delay selection of a new Supreme Court justice until Congress meets in January was considered today by Capitol politicians.

Attorney General Cummings held last August that an appointment to the court could be made whether Congress was in session or in recess. Hence, if the President desired, he could choose a successor to the late Justice Benjamin Cardozo in time for the beginning of the court term in October.

The Senate, however, eventually must pass on all recess appointments. There were some who suggested that Roosevelt might prefer to have the Senate vote on his nominee before the latter actually took his seat, lest the nomination be rejected and cause embarrassment.

Gives No Indication

Officials said that the acts of a justice who sits during a recess appointment are valid up to the last day of the next Senate session. He would have to leave the court if the Senate did not grant him a permanent commission.

Roosevelt has given no indication, as far as is known here, when he will select Justice Cardozo's successor or whom he will appoint.

He said yesterday at Wichita Falls, Texas, while announcing the appointment of 39-year-old Gov. James V. Alfred to a district judgeship, that he would seek to nominate "younger men to positions on the Federal Bench."

Justice Hugo L. Black was 51 years old at the time of his appointment last August, and Justice Stanley F. Reed was 53. They are the youngest members of the court.

LIFE IMPRISONMENT

Norhampton, Mass., July 13.—(AP)—John P. Bachelit, 26 of New York today pleaded guilty to second degree murder in the "cement coffin" slaying of Charles Morris, New York race track follower, and was sentenced by Judge Thomas Hammond to life imprisonment in a court session lasting only 10 minutes.
